Message from the Principal

Today is the Thanksgiving Day. We are glad to share roasted pork with students and invite them to write their Thanksgiving cards. We hope students can take the spirit of giving thanks home. Thanksgiving is very meaningful because it helps us to notice our limitations and appreciate the care from God, teachers, and friends. The feeling of contentment and thanksgiving are closely related, i.e. if we are not content with our current life, we cannot give thanks for what we have. After Thanksgiving, we can further evaluate our achievements so as to strive for excellence. When you make your life meaningful to others, you are going to live by our school motto: “Be the Salt and the Light of the Earth”.

S.1, S.4 to S.6 Parents Nights went off very well. We thank you, parents, for your support! I believe both the school and parents share the same wish, i.e. to nurture our next generation well. As we are aware that information flow is fast. Teenagers seem to think they benefit from a materialistic world; it would be sad if they lost their creativity and had little interest in exploring. Therefore, it is our aim to enhance students’ learning ability and instill a positive attitude towards life.
